design competition

Experts in the world of bespoke furniture, designs and manufacture, Tablemakers will be handing over their drawing boards to encourage St John's Hill Festivalgoers of all ages to have a go at designing their dream tables. Entries will be exhibited on the table gallery wall, and there are artistic goodies to be won for the most imaginative designs.

The London Door Company has been providing customers with a total solution to their door needs for over 25 years from its St John's Hill showroom. On festival day, visit their stall and take part in their "Who would live behind a door like this?" competition. Use the clues to work out who lives behind the door and you could win a case of wine!
